

Lisa Reason, Ed.D
Adjunct Professor
School of Education

EDUCATIONAL BACKGROUND

Ph.D., Capella University
Major: Leadership in Educational Administration

Masters, Bowling Green State University
Major: Educational Administration

Bachelor's, University of Toledo
Major: Education

TEACHING/ADMINISTRATIVE EXPERIENCE

Adjunct Faculty, (2008-Present)

Liberty University Online. Currently serve Liberty University as a graduate instructor. Also advise students through the comp and dissertation process.

Leadership Consultant & Vice President, (2003-Present)

Casey Reason Companies, Scottsdale, AZ. Provide consulting services focusing on leadership and change for Casey Reason Companies in Scottsdale, AZ.

English/journalism teacher, (1993-2001) Taught English and journalism and at Perrysburg High School from 1995-2001 and at Ross High School from 1993-1995. Was the newspaper advisor at both schools.

Writing Lab Tutor, Bowling Green State University, (1995-1997) Responsible for giving guidance to struggling writers in exchange for a graduate scholarship. Received excellent evaluations for my service.

SCHOLARLY ACTIVITY: PUBLICATIONS

Dedicated Text, (2008) Authored a textbook entitled Organizational Behavior which was released in July of 2008 through Aspen Publishing for dedicated use in their MBA program.

National Journal Article, (2007) Authored an article entitled Asking the Right Questions for the September 2007 issue of ASCD's most widely read publication, Educational Leadership.

Scholarly Paper, (2006) University Council for Educational Administration's 2006 National Convention. Paper Title: An investigation of the relationship between principals with an orientation in teacher leadership and transformational and transactional leadership behaviors.

Scholarly Paper, (2006) University Council for Educational Administration's 2006 National Convention. Paper Title: An examination of building principals with a formal orientation in teacher leadership and the degree to which principal gender impacts the recognition by teachers of transformational and transactional leadership behaviors.

Doctoral Dissertation, (2006) Capella University. Dissertation Title: An Investigation of the Relationship Between Transformational and Transactional Principal Leadership Behaviors and an Orientation in Teacher Leadership.

SCHOLARLY ACTIVITY: PRESENTATIONS

American International School, Leysin, Switzerland. (December, 2008)

Title: Creating a Collaborative Classroom.

NASSP (National Association for Secondary School Principals), (February, 2008)

Title: Improving Teacher Leadership Through Strategic Organizational Inquiry.

UCEA (University Council of Education Administration), (November, 2006) Title: An investigation of the relationship between principals with an orientation in teacher leadership and transformational and transactional leadership behaviors.

UCEA (University Council of Education Administration), (November, 2006) Title: An examination of building principals with a formal orientation in teacher leadership and the degree to which principal gender impacts the recognition by teachers of transformational and transactional leadership behaviors.

ASCD (Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development), (March, 2007)

Title: Strategies for bringing teacher leadership to your learning organization.

ASCD (Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development), (March, 2005)

Title: Finding Time for Instructional Leadership. How successful, learning centered organizations implement meaningful change with the use brain research and adult learning theory.

Rangitoto College, New Zealand, (March, 2005)

Title: A Learning-Centered Approach to Improvement Student Achievement. Provided a two-hour training session for parents and community members in the Rangitoto region.

Rangitoto College, New Zealand, (March, 2005)

Title: Leadership Strategies for a Learning Organization. Provided a seven-hour training session for the leadership team of Rangitoto College in Auckland. Rangitoto has the highest academic rating in the country.

Pukekohe High School, Pukekohe, New Zealand, (March, 2005)

Title: Leadership Strategies for a Learning Organization. Provided a two-hour training session for the teachers and leadership team from Pukekohe High School.

Kohia Teachers Centre, New Zealand, (March, 2005)

Title: Leadership Strategies for a Learning Organization. Provided a seven- hour training session for teachers, college faculty, and administrators from both K-12 and higher education from throughout the Auckland region.

Auckland Deputy Principal's Association, (March, 2005)

Title: Strategies for Learning-Centered Leadership. Provided a two-hour training session for approximately 200 principals from throughout the Auckland region.

Mana Education Centre, Wellington, New Zealand (March, 2005)

Title: Leadership Strategies for a Learning Organization. Provided a seven-hour training session for teachers, college faculty, and administrators from both k-12 and higher education from throughout the Wellington region.

SERVICE: PROFESSIONAL

Presentations

See Above

Dissertation Chair

Ebony Allen

Mary LeAngela Rogers

Dissertation Reader

Jared Denton

Richard Ney

Leigh Ann Putman

Angela Naima Williams