From within a discussion board, click the red arrow in the middle to expand the toolbar.

You will see six buttons, all of which perform a different function. The first three, from left to right, will allow you to select the boxes next to the messages.
After selecting a box or boxes, you can use the remaining three buttons to mark a message as Unread, Read, or to Collect a series of messages onto one page so you can read them simultaneously.