Fire closes lounge

A fire in Building 13 caused minimal damage to the water heater closet of the ladies’ room Tuesday. The Lafayette Lounge, which is adjacent to the ladies’ room, has been closed indefinitely on account of the fire.

“Smelled smoke and turned around, and there was smoke coming out of the bathroom door,” sophomore Michael Minnich, LU groundskeeping crew member, said. He said that he was walking by the door around 5:30 a.m. when he saw the flame coming out of the window and called the LUFD circle-9 phone.

Once reported, the LUFD called in the Lynchburg Fire Department. The fire was extinguished about an hour after it was first reported.

The fire apparently started by the elevator, and there was a stack of instructional material stored adjacent to the hot water heater, LUFD Chief Randall Smith said. The Lynchburg Fire Department is still looking into the cause.

Smith helped clean up after the fire and said that paper towels, toilet paper and among other supplies had been burned.

The blaze caused very little damage. “It was all limited to the hot water heater room,” Smith said. “There’s nothing in there but the water heater.”

Sophomore Whitney Full, a friend of Minnich, arrived after the fire.

“I wasn’t shocked much. I had no idea it happened,” junior Carolyn Depp said. “I would’ve gone do my laundry and been like, ‘What in the world happened there?’”

“What we’ll do is that now she will do laundry in Dorm 2.”

definitions

“Since you can worship God after you’ve lost it all, that’s integrity,” Gray said during one of the seven messages given at the Spiritual Emphasis Week.

Gray was joined by award-winning Christian artist Clay Cross in a surprise visit for Wednesday’s Emphasis Week.

Evangelist Larry Gray’s addresses students for SEW. The exciting part about the year so far is that our team has not reached the limits of its potential, but has still managed to dominate the field, as it did last semester, in the first two tournaments of the year.

At both the George Mason University tournament, held during the first weekend of school, and at the U.S. Naval Academy tournament, Jun. 24-25, the team left with more ranking points than any other squad.

At Navy Liberty teams won both the novice and junior varsity divisions, and at GMU the team became the first squad of the season to win more ranking points than any other squad.

The team’s win at Navy set two team records in achieving its fifth double division win of the season and the team’s sixth consecutive win.

The team’s win at Navy set two team records in achieving its fifth double division win of the season and the team’s sixth consecutive win. At Navy the Lions closed out the year with a 69-50 win over Charleston.

“The fine art of Debate continues to break records

In February 1926

Check it out — The Big 10 birthday bash celebrates 9:00 PM The Light at the year of operation this semester. Time to visit WNSC Lynchburg, our campus radio station.

No Champion next week

We hope that you won’t be disappointed, but there will be no Feb. 11 issue of the Champion. Our next issue will come out in two weeks on Feb. 18. Happy Valentine’s Day.

DOLLY

Debate continues to break records

The fine art of Debate continues to break records.

The exciting part about the year so far is that our team has not reached the limits of its potential, but has still managed to dominate the field, as it did last semester, in the first two tournaments of the year.

At both the George Mason University tournament, held during the first weekend of school, and at the U.S. Naval Academy tournament, Jun. 24-25, the team left with more ranking points than any other squad.

At Navy Liberty teams won both the novice and junior varsity divisions, and at GMU the team became the first squad of the season to win more ranking points than any other squad.

The team’s win at Navy set two team records in achieving its fifth double division win of the season and the team’s sixth consecutive win.

The team’s win at Navy set two team records in achieving its fifth double division win of the season and the team’s sixth consecutive win. At Navy the Lions closed out the year with a 69-50 win over Charleston.

“The fine art of Debate continues to break records

In February 1926

Check it out — The Big 10 birthday bash celebrates 9:00 PM The Light at the year of operation this semester. Time to visit WNSC Lynchburg, our campus radio station.

No Champion next week

We hope that you won’t be disappointed, but there will be no Feb. 11 issue of the Champion. Our next issue will come out in two weeks on Feb. 18. Happy Valentine’s Day.

DOLLY

Debate continues to break records

The exciting part about the year so far is that our team has not reached the limits of its potential, but has still managed to dominate the field, as it did last semester, in the first two tournaments of the year.

At both the George Mason University tournament, held during the first weekend of school, and at the U.S. Naval Academy tournament, Jun. 24-25, the team left with more ranking points than any other squad.

At Navy Liberty teams won both the novice and junior varsity divisions, and at GMU the team became the first squad of the season to win more ranking points than any other squad.

The team’s win at Navy set two team records in achieving its fifth double division win of the season and the team’s sixth consecutive win.

The team’s win at Navy set two team records in achieving its fifth double division win of the season and the team’s sixth consecutive win. At Navy the Lions closed out the year with a 69-50 win over Charleston.

“The fine art of Debate continues to break records

In February 1926

Check it out — The Big 10 birthday bash celebrates 9:00 PM The Light at the year of operation this semester. Time to visit WNSC Lynchburg, our campus radio station.

No Champion next week

We hope that you won’t be disappointed, but there will be no Feb. 11 issue of the Champion. Our next issue will come out in two weeks on Feb. 18. Happy Valentine’s Day.

DOLLY

Debate continues to break records

The exciting part about the year so far is that our team has not reached the limits of its potential, but has still managed to dominate the field, as it did last semester, in the first two tournaments of the year.

At both the George Mason University tournament, held during the first weekend of school, and at the U.S. Naval Academy tournament, Jun. 24-25, the team left with more ranking points than any other squad.

At Navy Liberty teams won both the novice and junior varsity divisions, and at GMU the team became the first squad of the season to win more ranking points than any other squad.

The team’s win at Navy set two team records in achieving its fifth double division win of the season and the team’s sixth consecutive win.

The team’s win at Navy set two team records in achieving its fifth double division win of the season and the team’s sixth consecutive win. At Navy the Lions closed out the year with a 69-50 win over Charleston.

“The fine art of Debate continues to break records

In February 1926

Check it out — The Big 10 birthday bash celebrates 9:00 PM The Light at the year of operation this semester. Time to visit WNSC Lynchburg, our campus radio station.

No Champion next week

We hope that you won’t be disappointed, but there will be no Feb. 11 issue of the Champion. Our next issue will come out in two weeks on Feb. 18. Happy Valentine’s Day.

DOLLY

Debate continues to break records

The exciting part about the year so far is that our team has not reached the limits of its potential, but has still managed to dominate the field, as it did last semester, in the first two tournaments of the year.

At both the George Mason University tournament, held during the first weekend of school, and at the U.S. Naval Academy tournament, Jun. 24-25, the team left with more ranking points than any other squad.

At Navy Liberty teams won both the novice and junior varsity divisions, and at GMU the team became the first squad of the season to win more ranking points than any other squad.

The team’s win at Navy set two team records in achieving its fifth double division win of the season and the team’s sixth consecutive win.

The team’s win at Navy set two team records in achieving its fifth double division win of the season and the team’s sixth consecutive win. At Navy the Lions closed out the year with a 69-50 win over Charleston.

“The fine art of Debate continues to break records

In February 1926

Check it out — The Big 10 birthday bash celebrates 9:00 PM The Light at the year of operation this semester. Time to visit WNSC Lynchburg, our campus radio station.

No Champion next week

We hope that you won’t be disappointed, but there will be no Feb. 11 issue of the Champion. Our next issue will come out in two weeks on Feb. 18. Happy Valentine’s Day.

DOLLY

Debate continues to break records

The exciting part about the year so far is that our team has not reached the limits of its potential, but has still managed to dominate the field, as it did last semester, in the first two tournaments of the year.

At both the George Mason University tournament, held during the first weekend of school, and at the U.S. Naval Academy tournament, Jun. 24-25, the team left with more ranking points than any other squad.

At Navy Liberty teams won both the novice and junior varsity divisions, and at GMU the team became the first squad of the season to win more ranking points than any other squad.

The team’s win at Navy set two team records in achieving its fifth double division win of the season and the team’s sixth consecutive win. At Navy the Lions closed out the year with a 69-50 win over Charleston.
The Price is Right

By Chris Price, columnist

I am in a foul mood today. The purpose of this column that I have had to write, so I am about to snap and stab someone with my car keys. Every time I go to save it, somehow it disappears, and I have to start all over. I am sure you computer nerds out there are laughing at me because there is some easy way to get it back, but I don’t know. Well, since I am fiery mad at my computer, I will go ahead and vent some of my aggravations as well.

Guys, do not keep your apartments at two degrees warmer than the devil keeps hell. Sometimes walking into your houses makes me begin to weep, wail and gnash my teeth. The heat in some of your dwellings is only comparable to the center of the earth. Also, do not flirt with guys if you have a boyfriend back home and do not ever tell a guy that you have a boyfriend back home and do not ever tell a guy that he is like your brother.

Girls, please keep your cheesiness to a minimum. I actually heard a guy tell a girl that the reason she hadn’t been asked out yet was because everyone was intimidated actually heard a guy tell a girl that the reason she hadn’t been asked out yet was because everyone was intimidated. That stuff only works if he has heard women like that. Now he gazes in her eyes and says some ludicrous nonsense, then he furrows his brow and he gets a serious tone about him.

I have now begun to simmer, so I will end my ranting. I have never begun to simmer, as I will end my ranting. I needed to vent before I had a heart attack from this stress. I am losing my sanity. The price I pay is a pair of pants that I have never worn before.

I am in a foul mood today. The purpose of this column that I have had to write, so I am about to snap and stab someone with my car keys. Every time I go to save it, somehow it disappears, and I have to start all over. I am sure you computer nerds out there are laughing at me because there is some easy way to get it back, but I don’t know. Well, since I am fiery mad at my computer, I will go ahead and vent some of my aggravations as well.

Guys, do not keep your apartments at two degrees warmer than the devil keeps hell. Sometimes walking into your houses makes me begin to weep, wail and gnash my teeth. The heat in some of your dwellings is only comparable to the center of the earth. Also, do not flirt with guys if you have a boyfriend back home and do not ever tell a guy that you have a boyfriend back home and do not ever tell a guy that he is like your brother.

Girls, please keep your cheesiness to a minimum. I actually heard a guy tell a girl that the reason she hadn’t been asked out yet was because everyone was intimidated actually heard a guy tell a girl that the reason she hadn’t been asked out yet was because everyone was intimidated. That stuff only works if he has heard women like that. Now he gazes in her eyes and says some ludicrous nonsense, then he furrows his brow and he gets a serious tone about him.

I have now begun to simmer, so I will end my ranting. I have never begun to simmer, as I will end my ranting. I needed to vent before I had a heart attack from this stress. I am losing my sanity. The price I pay is a pair of pants that I have never worn before.

Cross Movement plays at Liberty

By Ricky Hardison, reporter

Lots of bass, plenty of Godglorifying lyrics and even a little bit of crowd surfing characterize the late-night hip-hop concert last Saturday. Cross Movement, a nationally recognized Philadelphia-based Christian rap group, performed for the first time at Liberty in a packed-out Schilling Center. The show was sponsored by junior Brad Havia and LU’s dunk team (www.audunk.com).

“I love what these guys have to offer, and that is for people to know Christ more intimately,” senior Teresa Wright said after the concert.

“I greatly appreciate and admire the ministry in which God has placed them,” sophomore Mark Seano said. “What separates them from other rap artists is their right view of God.”

In addition to the many Liberty students who appreciated how Cross Movement could set truths to a beat, a few from the community also attended the show.

Gerald “Geez” Stoneham, 31, claims to be the group’s biggest fan. “They’re on a level that no one can compete with,” he said. When he heard that Cross Movement was coming into town, he said, “I was beyond excited.”

The show began at 11:45 p.m. Saturday, but Cross Movement did not come on stage until 2:05 a.m. They rapped and preached until approximately 2:15 a.m. Afterwards, each of the four members of the group stayed around to talk with the audience and sign autographs. Luis Ramos, 23, had never listened to Cross Movement until the night of the performance. “It was truly a five-star performance,” Ramos commented after the show.

In between most of their songs, one member of Cross Movement would speak for about five minutes. William Branch (a.k.a. “Ambas- sador”), the leader of Cross Movement, said that the Gospel message was “a fully loaded piece of ammo.”

In their mini-sermons, the group emphasized becoming a laborer in God’s harvest.

They encouraged Liberty students not to play Christianity while they are at a Christian school, and they also gave a Gospel presentation for unbelievers.

“Ambassador” said that he loves doing what he does. “I get a chance to both fulfill the Great Commission and use a craft that I am passionate about,” he said.

SGA auctioning dates in fundraiser

By Christian Knecht, reporter

Need a date for Valentine’s Day? Want a chance to meet new people and have an evening of fun and entertainment? Have your chance.

On Feb. 5, for a few dollars that will go towards student government, you can buy your date at the bachelor/bachelorette auction organized by the SGA.

The auction will be held at the Schilling Center at 10:30 p.m., shortly after the campus church service. There will be lots of bidders, which can be paid at the door. Those attending the auction will be entertained by skills and music prior to the bidding, which will be led by student services Vice President Brian Fraser.

There will be about 12 males and 14 females available for bidding, including three hockey players who will be auctioned off as a package.

The students being auctioned are dynamic people and it will be great for the people who will have a chance to get to know them,” Sophomore Vice President Lauren Millsaps said. The students will be auctioned off in pairs for safety reasons and also to create a sense of fun and friendship, according to Millsaps. “We just want to promote unity and friendship among the students and give them a chance to go out, have fun and get to know new people,” Millsaps said.

According to SGA President Zach Gautier, the auction was organized as a creative and fun way to raise funds for the SGA. “The bachelor/bachelorette auction will be a positive experience for the campus because it will create a unique environment in which students will be able to come together and have a fun time while still being able to raise funds for the SGA.”

The event was originally set for last year on Dec. 4 but was postponed due to snow and technical difficulties, according Gautier.

“I really think it’s going to be a fun event. Something different from what students are used to,” Millsaps said.

What are you doing this summer?

www.Summerofyourlife.com

Discover how you can make $25,000 in 13 weeks!
ILRC gets new computers, rules

By Mariel Williams, news editor

The Information Learning Resource Center (ILRC) continues to change with the purchase of new computers for the Mac Lab and the establishment of a new Code of Conduct this semester. ILRC decided to purchase the new Macintoshes because of the need for faster computer, Mac Administrator Nick Tripp said.

“The reason we decided to update all the Macs was because we wanted to use the new Mac operating system,” Tripp said. While the computers previously used in the Mac lab probably could have handled the new system, faculty offices were equipped with older models. The new operating system will require much more speed.

“Mac OS X will be a big change,” Tripp said. “The user interface will be similar but it will definitely be far superior to what we’re using now.”

The new system will not be installed this semester, but will probably be available by next year. “Our target date will be the Fall of ’03,” Tripp said. Even without the new OS, students have been pleased with the change in hardware, Tripp said.

Sophomore Bryan Raitter likes the new computers, but will be even happier when the new operating system is installed. “It seems like maybe they should have waited (and bought) both because then the hardware would be more versatile,” Raitter said. But even without new software, the new computers are an improvement, he said.

“The flat screen makes it easier because it doesn’t give you extraneous,” Raitter said. The new Code of Conduct will affect the entire ILRC, on both floors. Many of the new computers are Macintosh, he said. Although new software is programmed together even before, during an Open Mic night at Fellini’s Club.

“One that’s nice, that he and I have sung together before,” Lowell said.

Linda Nell Cooper, an English professor and head of the drama department, said, “I see it as his tragedy that he’s trying to show what degree evil can be and how evil must be demolished completely or it will come back,” Cooper said. Students also connect with the idea that the play presents the theme that the play presents. “It shows how people can get so power hungry, that they will do anything to get what they want,” senior Michelle Lavieviere said.

Macbeth is also familiar part of a typical high school English curriculum. Like many of Shakespeare’s plays, Macbeth is filled with supernatural elements and is the story of a man losing his mind.

Tripp said, “I’m sure it will be wonderful,” senior Nick Tripp said. “The play is not only the characters, but the relationships between the characters is what makes the play along.”

“We have all the relationships present in the play in our lives during one time or another, whether in a negative or a positive sense. It will affect people deeply and make us aware as a warning to someone who has the same qualities as Macbeth, such as vanity and ambition, the play tells us that friendship must be avoided at all costs,” Cooper said.

Despite the new trend of modernizing Shakespeare, like the popular adaptation of Romeo and Juliet starring Leonardo DiCaprio and Claire Danes, this play will be produced in its original and setting of medieval Scotland. “All of our costumes have come from museums. We’re keeping it as accurate as possible,” Cooper said.

The cast has been working hard on how to make the meaning of the archaic terminology clear to the audience. “The challenge has been not just understanding the language but how to get the understanding across to the audience. So the action has to be very visual for the audience to understand all the words,” Cooper said.

With only a week till opening night, some students have already expressed the meaning and variation and interest. “I think it’s great that he’s playing Shakespeare. They do such a great job with anything else, I may try it will be wonderful,” Melissa Steinmetz, a senior English major, said.

Macbeth will be played by John Cherney, a senior who is known for his singing ability. He will appear as Lady Macbeth and Banquo, a role usually played by David Zimmerman. Jonathan Derdman will be Prince Malcolm. All performances will be at 7:30 pm Feb. 14, 15, 21, 22, 27 and 28 and March 4. The student ticket price is $8 except on Valentine’s Day, when it will be $10.

The show is being produced by anyone who has been involved in the show, Cooper said.

FEBRUARY 4, 2003 THE LIBERTY CHAMPION, Page 3
Interest in the school.

We receive regular inquiries from prospective students who are very excited about the law school, Green said. "The interest in teaching positions has been outstanding, and we have a number of excellent prospects. We expect to have at least two (faculty members) under contract by spring lent prospects. We expect to have at least two (faculty members) under contract by spring.

While the accreditation is still uncertain, students feel hopeful about the law school in a position to achieve accreditation at the earliest possible date," Green said.

"We did not start the law school with the expectation that we would be accredited in one year. We have a long-term vision for the school," Green said. "We are confident that we will be able to sit for the exam. It's going to be hard."

"We receive regular inquiries from prospective students who are very excited about the law school, Green said. "The interest in teaching positions has been outstanding, and we have a number of excellent prospects. We expect to have at least two (faculty members) under contract by spring."

While the accreditation is still uncertain, students feel hopeful about the law school in a position to achieve accreditation at the earliest possible date, Green said. "We did not start the law school with the expectation that we would be accredited in one year. We have a long-term vision for the school," Green said. "We are confident that we will be able to sit for the exam. It’s going to be hard."
FEBRUARY 4, 2003 THE LIBERTY CHAMPION, Page 5

Opinion

Defining the dating game

For the first time in my life (I’ll have a Valiantly talking courage here), that’s right, I lived 20 years without ever dating and only on a grounded total of three dates... until last summer. My Valiant was worth the wait. But I’m not going to tell here and here with my love story; instead I will elaborate on what it means to have a Valentine versus a Valentine’s day. I have historically, at liberty
Valentine a great deal of ambiguity in the terms “date” and “dating.” So I’ll take it upon myself to clarify these terms for this student body so that everyone’s on the same page. If you don’t agree... you’re welcome to write a letter and we might print it, otherwise too bad.

I should start by saying that I think that much of Western society’s modern concept of dating is hogwash. Since when has Dutch possibility of become the norm? It’s (called that becuase years ago the Dutch were the most stingy of all businesses). I still believe in male chivalry, and gentleman opening doors for ladies. Call me outdated and sentimental, but I know for a fact that there are still a few men out there like that. But enough of that, I will now define
dating terminology.

First of all, a date is when a guy asks a girl to go out with him, decides on what to do and pays for it. I can just hear a lot of guys say-
“Why does the man always plan and pay for every-	hing?” I see it as the man’s privilege and responsibility to please a woman like she’s special and worthy of time and money. I also firmly believe that the man should be the one to initiate.

After a few dates, if the girl
wants to be with him, they can take the initial lead and pay out of his pocket now, improvement in the future is unlikely.
That rarely-to-never happens and is the reverse case, especially after earlier
marriage.

Finding the solution.

Call me
outdated and sentimental, but I know for a fact that there are still a few men out there like that. But enough
of that, I will now define
dating terminology.

First of all, a date is when
a guy asks a girl to go out with him, decides on what to do and
pays for it. I can just hear a lot of guys say-
“Why does the man always plan and pay for every-ing?” I see it as the man’s privilege and responsibility to please a woman like she’s special and worthy of time and money. I also firmly believe that the man should be the one to initiate.

After a few dates, if the girl
wants to be with him, they can take the initial lead and pay out of his pocket now, improvement in the future is unlikely.
That rarely-to-never happens and is the reverse case, especially after earlier
marriage.

Federal officials have been investigating a complaint voiced by a Texas Tech University student, because he left him unfriendly a letter of re-commemation from one of his professors. Michael Spradling, who is studying to become a physician, received the letter from biology prof. Michael Dini, but Dini refused to recommed Spradling for entrance at Liberty University, because Dini has the right to his own opinion, and when a student asks for a personal recom-
menation is a personal opinion, and when a student
asks for a personal recom-
menation is a personal opinion, and when a student requests.
Ben, logical conclusions on racism

Dear Editor,

I enjoyed reading Ben Epperson's column. "Bush's first year turns racism ver very much, Epperson's conclusions were solid and right on the money. I'd like to add one thing to Epperson's conclusions, though: not only is affirmative action unrighteous, it is dangerous.

If I'm driving on a bridge, I'd rather it be called Epperson Bridge than Bush Bridge. I prefer a bridge that is named for a person who knew what he was doing rather than the title because of his skin color. Likewise, if I died on an operating table, my doctor would not be just qualified. I'm sure that my family would know that, well, at least he was a minority.

Secondly, I disagree with Epperson's terminology—a very common mistake. In my family, we have avoided using it.

Ben Epperson

Tuition is expensive

...It is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.

"Tuition is expensive — it is only common intelligence to attempt to get the most out of it. If you purchased a dream car you wouldn't just let it sit there. You would use it.
Engagement Announcements

Andrew and Misty plan to wed on Sept. 13, 2003 in Pennsylvania. Misty is from Glenmore, Pa. and will graduate in May with a degree in Communications. Andrew is a Lynchburg native and is in the Marine Corps currently stationed in Okinawa, Japan.

Engagement story: "On a day trip to Virginia Beach, he wrapped his arms around me and began singing. 'We are in love' by Harry Connick Jr. When he got to the part of the song that says 'I'm the one who's supposed to kneel down and propose, well all right, I might,' then he said, 'I will and got down and took out the ring.'"

John Burns and Kristy Mullendore

Joshua and Allison plan to wed on July 20, 2003 at Zion Baptist Church in Clarion, Penn. Joshua graduated in 2002 with a degree in finance from Grove City College and now works for J.P. Morgan & Chase in New York City. Stephanie will graduate in 2003 with a degree in elementary education.

Engagement story: "It was our two year anniversary, and after a romantic dinner at the restaurant from our first date, we stoped by our church. There he had candles and roses waiting, with a power point presentation that had pictures from our relationship, and he sang a song that he had written. Then he popped the question, and our family met us outside the church with cameras and tears of joy."
Happy Valentine's Day Liberty!

Table, TV and UCR for Two!

By Ashley Haywood, reporter

Red, red and a little more red...and let's throw in some pink. Guess what holiday? Some might want to call it the "Reminded-at-every-awful-moment-I'm-still-single-and-hating-it" holiday, but others call it Valentine's Day. Whatever your preference, single and hating it, or dating and absolutely loving it, there's a love movie for you!

So you're enjoying relational bliss with your significant other and can't wait for the best time of the year when you're significantly less to be nice and show your girls (or guys) that you're planning on a quiet night at home, instead of the Coffee House. Then let me kick into my bag and pull out a flick just right for your. Ever heard of "Breakfast at Tiffany's"? An Affair to Remember? Or "Casablanca"?

These are some of the best romance movies the American cinema has to offer. One Warning: "Breakfast at Tiffany's" and "An Affair..." come in black and white, in case you just have to have color. Going with modern-day classics, "While You Were Sleeping" "Runaway Bride" and "Sleepless in Seattle" offer take on line. I mean, take on line a much you just can't get to know one another, but want to spend a low-key holiday together? Try "Stolen Identity", "The Truth About Cats and Dogs", or "Ten Things I Hate About You." Those movies have characters just beginning the dating process with one another. You could also pick up "Groundhog Day", "Never Been Kissed" or an '80's classic, "Sixteen Candles." The same story applies in these as well.

And for the more interested couples, there are plenty of wedding movies to get you excited, nervous or maybe scared about your big day. Check out, "Father of the Bride" "Meet The Parents" or "The Princess Bride." Wriggled into a love triangle? "My Best Friend's Wedding" "The Wedding Singer" and "The Wedding Planner" all have your love triangle and wedding rolled into one.

Now for the people I really support, the strong single types. I mean who wants to be showered with love and affection anyways? Shouldn't girls and guys love each other this much everyday, not just on Valentine's Day? You might be a little bitter, or sad, or depressed, but you don't have to let this love-invested holiday get to you this year! So sit, or not on your world. I've got movies for you too. These are sure to leave you feeling warm and fuzzy all over. Movies I just love are ones where the nerd, misfit, or poor girl, who no one ever thinks will get that prize girl or guy, gets them. For example, "Pretty in Pink" "She's All That", and again, "Sixteen Candles" are prime examples of the never-gonna-happen, happening.

Now for the last category, loving people for what's inside, not outside. That's what "My Best Friend's Wedding" "The Wedding Singer" and "Father of the Bride" "Meet The Parents" "The Princess Bride" "Groundhog Day" "Never Been Kissed" or an '80's classic, "Sixteen Candles." The same story applies in these as well.

But others call it Valentine's Day. What did the French chef give his wife for the holiday with the most cards sent being surpassed only by Christmas? So, ladies and gents, while you are sorting through countless cards, flowers, and stuffed animals and hunting down the last rose in Lynchburg, check out Liberty's finest at the Check out Liberty's finest at the 2/14 Valentine's Day Coffeehouse. The only remotely negative feeling that I can associate with Valentine's Day is a movie...I mean the Beast" or "Shrek" to today's young viewers, what truly loving someone for their heart is all about.

CUDDING—Breonna Donnison and Gregory Wheeler enjoy a romantic evening watching a movie together.

Life!

Where did Valentine's day originate?

By Connie Papaloukas, reporter

It's that time of year again. Time to start thinking about love, hearts, chocolates and flowers...who says love doesn't just happen around Valentine's Day? Why do we call our significant other "Valentine"? Who was that mysterious saint that we celebrate, our "Valentine"? Who was that guy that we celebrate, our "Valentine"? Happy Valentine's Day Liberty!

Now granted, I am more than willing to have someone buy me flowers and chocolates, but others call it Valentine's Day. Whatever your preference, single and hating it, or dating and absolutely loving it, there's a love movie for you!

So you're enjoying relational bliss with your significant other and can't wait for the best time of the year when you're significantly less to be nice and show your girls (or guys) that you're planning on a quiet night at home, instead of the Coffee House. Then let me kick into my bag and pull out a flick just right for your. Ever heard of "Breakfast at Tiffany's"? An Affair to Remember? Or "Casablanca"? These are some of the best romance movies the American cinema has to offer. One Warning: "Breakfast at Tiffany's" and "An Affair..." come in black and white, in case you just have to have color. Going with modern-day classics, "While You Were Sleeping" "Runaway Bride" and "Sleepless in Seattle" offer take on line. I mean, take on line a much you just can't get to know one another, but want to spend a low-key holiday together? Try "Stolen Identity", "The Truth About Cats and Dogs", or "Ten Things I Hate About You." Those movies have characters just beginning the dating process with one another. You could also pick up "Groundhog Day", "Never Been Kissed" or an '80's classic, "Sixteen Candles." The same story applies in these as well.

And for the more interested couples, there are plenty of wedding movies to get you excited, nervous or maybe scared about your big day. Check out, "Father of the Bride" "Meet The Parents" or "The Princess Bride." Wriggled into a love triangle? "My Best Friend's Wedding" "The Wedding Singer" and "The Wedding Planner" all have your love triangle and wedding rolled into one.

Now for the people I really support, the strong single types. I mean who wants to be showered with love and affection anyways? Shouldn't girls and guys love each other this much everyday, not just on Valentine's Day? You might be a little bitter, or sad, or depressed, but you don't have to let this love-invested holiday get to you this year! So sit, or not on your world. I've got movies for you too. These are sure to leave you feeling warm and fuzzy all over. Movies I just love are ones where the nerd, misfit, or poor girl, who no one ever thinks will get that prize girl or guy, gets them. For example, "Pretty in Pink" "She's All That" and again, "Sixteen Candles" are prime examples of the never-gonna-happen, happening.

Now for the last category, loving people for what's inside, not outside. That's what "My Best Friend's Wedding" "The Wedding Singer" and "Father of the Bride" "Meet The Parents" "The Princess Bride" "Groundhog Day" "Never Been Kissed" or an '80's classic, "Sixteen Candles." The same story applies in these as well.

But others call it Valentine's Day. What did the French chef give his wife for the holiday with the most cards sent being surpassed only by Christmas? So, ladies and gents, while you are sorting through countless cards, flowers, and stuffed animals and hunting down the last rose in Lynchburg, check out Liberty's finest at the...
On Valentine’s Day, don’t wait until the last minute to find the gift that your sweetheart will love. Start planning now and most of all don’t forget that it is the thought that counts. If money is an issue, handmade gifts are just as meaningful as costly ones. Gifts that are from the heart mean the most to the recipient. “Inexpensive, Baking cookies or a cake is a nice way to say, ‘I love you.’”

There are several good gift ideas that will make a lasting impression. Make the effort to give a good gift. After asking the male student body at Liberty what they would like for Valentine’s Day, most of the guys want a gift that lets them know that they are cared for. They also want to know that the gift is from the heart. Here is some insight into the male’s idea of a perfect Valentine’s Day gift, from the students and teachers at Liberty.

A letter of affirmation from the author of “How to Win a guy’s Heart” by David Hammond said, “Just say yes,” junior Matt Simon said. “Candy,” sophomore Blake Voyles said. “Last year my wife came to my office on Valentine’s Day with a purple and red gorilla that says, ‘it’s for the way you look at me. The gorilla is still up in our office as a reminder that my wife loves me,” Gнес research assistant Troy Matthes said.

“A card that simply states her thoughts,” freshman Barry Welch said. “I always believe that less is more. Sometimes a handmade is always cool,” freshman pre-law major Nathan Thompson said. “I would like something that takes some creativity something that shows their talent,” freshman government major David Hempel said.

“A Box of Chocolates,” junior biology major Bobby Hunt said. “A new video game preferably the Tiger Woods golf game,” senior communications major Kyle Adams said. “My wife is Danish and they don’t celebrate Valentine’s Day in Denmark. I don’t expect anything for Valentine’s Day, I expect to be the giver and not the givee,” theology major Matthew Bertus said.

“A second chance,” sophomore philosophy and religion major Will Uram said. “My mom’s hug. I miss my mom,” junior government major Gabriel Watson said. “They always want a good gift,” freshman government major Robert Horsley said. After hearing all of these great ideas, if nothing comes to mind here are a few suggestions to go on with that special someone or with a group of friends.

Head to the chocolate gift that is in Lexington, Virginia Valentine’s Day weekend. There will be free samples of chocolates, a bake off and plenty of chocolates to purchase and eat. The Valentine’s Day gift shop is a great place to be on that special night and anyone that attends it is encouraged to dress up.

However, any way that the day is spent with friends or with the one your heart loves, don’t forget to make it meaningful, memorable and fun.

By Misty Maynard, reporter
Liberty dominates Charleston Southern in another blowout

By Robbie Adams, sports editor

The Flames have simply outplayed all conference competition this year despite the injuries that have come along the way. Individuals have stepped up when needed and the Flames remain in control. On Saturday night was no different.

Liberty, 69-44, made a full recovery. "My brother is still down on his back. He had an accident where he broke his back. It was just a rare injury where he broke his back.

The Flames will have to prepare themselves for an even tougher team.

"And so, Liberty will have to work on a few things as it looks to remain perfect through the Big South Conference this year.

Jumpers lead T&F at VMI Relays

Competing in their first meet of 2003 the Liberty men's and women's track and field teams led the way. The team scored 141 points in the 34th VMI Invitational on Saturday with a 3-hour 40 minute lead over the Bucs.

The Virginia Military Institute hosts one of the top track meets in the nation with the Bucs scoring a total of 141 points to Liberty's 126. Liberty scored 96 points in the men's race and 28 points in the women's race.

In the men's race, Liberty had 73 points and the Bucs scored 47 points. Liberty scored 52 points in the women's race and the Bucs scored 9 points.

The men's team scored points in the 110 meter dash, 400 meter dash, and 1,500 meter run. The women's team scored points in the 100 meter dash, 200 meter dash, and 400 meter dash.

The men's team scored points in the 1,500 meter run, 3,000 meter steeplechase, and 4x400 meter relay. The women's team scored points in the 4x400 meter relay, 4x100 meter relay, and 4x800 meter relay.

The Flames continued to be outstanding. Earlier this season, Dees continue to be outstanding. Earlier this season, Dees continued to be outstanding.
By Becca Smith, reporter

The match was a trial-by-fire for the Flames, who last two of their top three players from last season and were playing against a team much different from many in the past. With this weekend’s match, the strongest competition Liberty will see all year, already behind them, there is an idea of what to expect from the team.

Senior Ricards Shklokins and sophomore Luiz Rino, both from Sao Paulo, Brazil, will lead the men’s squad. Luiz Rino, also returning from last year, is one of the fastest players in the conference, tied Maska with eight home runs and was in the top three on the team in batting average.

While the Flames had the lead, they were forced into an all-out effort that covered the end of the second period, and UM tied the game 54 seconds apart. LU answered again and Liberty never recovered. A late difference in the 15th minute sealed the victory, and the Flames skated into the final period.

The Flames were leading 5-3 in the third period with a power play goal to make it 5-5. Ten seconds later, a “post-whistle” fake from McDonald, two of Liberty’s top three scorers in the loss. Two Wolverines were penalized, keeping the game at even strength on the ice, even though there was a serious offensive disadvantage. Liberty would need to find a different place for the offense, and it came from the stick of sophomore defenseman Joe Belles. His shot, with 33 seconds left in the game, got past the goalie and it found the back of the Michigan goal, the Liberty bench, with numerous family and friends that had traveled to see the game celebrated in creation, as did the first time in the game the Flames had the lead, at 6-5. With 2:33 seconds left, there were still tense moments. A face-off in the Liberty zone led a UM shot deflected to center ice. The final buzzer saw Liberty skating into the corner with the ball and mobbed each other in front of their fans.

The Flames (4-4) have two remaining home games before the National, the Saturdays vs. Duke, and the 19th vs. NC State.

For Sale

Championships last fall in Chapel Hill, Flames number one singles player, captain of the team, and the team’s number one singles player, from last year, is one of the fastest players in the conference, tied Maska with eight home runs and was in the top three on the team in batting average. While the Flames had the lead, they were forced into an all-out effort that covered the end of the second period, and UM tied the game 54 seconds apart. LU answered again and Liberty never recovered. A late difference in the 15th minute sealed the victory, and the Flames skated into the final period.

The Flames were leading 5-3 in the third period with a power play goal to make it 5-5. Ten seconds later, a “post-whistle” fake from McDonald, two of Liberty’s top three scorers in the loss. Two Wolverines were penalized, keeping the game at even strength on the ice, even though there was a serious offensive disadvantage. Liberty would need to find a different place for the offense, and it came from the stick of sophomore defenseman Joe Belles. His shot, with 33 seconds left in the game, got past the goalie and it found the back of the Michigan goal, the Liberty bench, with numerous family and friends that had traveled to see the game celebrated in creation, as did the first time in the game the Flames had the lead, at 6-5. With 2:33 seconds left, there were still tense moments. A face-off in the Liberty zone led a UM shot deflected to center ice. The final buzzer saw Liberty skating into the corner ice, the Flames had the lead, at 6-5.

With 2:33 seconds left, there were still tense moments. A face-off in the Liberty zone led a UM shot deflected to center ice. The final buzzer saw Liberty skating into the corner.

The Flames (4-4) have two remaining home games before the National, the Saturdays vs. Duke, and the 19th vs. NC State.

For Sale

Championships last fall in Chapel Hill, Flames number one singles player, captain of the team, and the team’s number one singles player, from last year, is one of the fastest players in the conference, tied Maska with eight home runs and was in the top three on the team in batting average. While the Flames had the lead, they were forced into an all-out effort that covered the end of the second period, and UM tied the game 54 seconds apart. LU answered again and Liberty never recovered. A late difference in the 15th minute sealed the victory, and the Flames skated into the final period.

The Flames were leading 5-3 in the third period with a power play goal to make it 5-5. Ten seconds later, a “post-whistle” fake from McDonald, two of Liberty’s top three scorers in the loss. Two Wolverines were penalized, keeping the game at even strength on the ice, even though there was a serious offensive disadvantage. Liberty would need to find a different place for the offense, and it came from the stick of sophomore defenseman Joe Belles. His shot, with 33 seconds left in the game, got past the goalie and it found the back of the Michigan goal, the Liberty bench, with numerous family and friends that had traveled to see the game celebrated in creation, as did the first time in the game the Flames had the lead, at 6-5. With 2:33 seconds left, there were still tense moments. A face-off in the Liberty zone led a UM shot deflected to center ice. The final buzzer saw Liberty skating into the corner.

The Flames (4-4) have two remaining home games before the National, the Saturdays vs. Duke, and the 19th vs. NC State.

For Sale

Championships last fall in Chapel Hill, Flames number one singles player, captain of the team, and the team’s number one singles player, from last year, is one of the fastest players in the conference, tied Maska with eight home runs and was in the top three on the team in batting average. While the Flames had the lead, they were forced into an all-out effort that covered the end of the second period, and UM tied the game 54 seconds apart. LU answered again and Liberty never recovered. A late difference in the 15th minute sealed the victory, and the Flames skated into the final period.

The Flames were leading 5-3 in the third period with a power play goal to make it 5-5. Ten seconds later, a “post-whistle” fake from McDonald, two of Liberty’s top three scorers in the loss. Two Wolverines were penalized, keeping the game at even strength on the ice, even though there was a serious offensive disadvantage. Liberty would need to find a different place for the offense, and it came from the stick of sophomore defenseman Joe Belles. His shot, with 33 seconds left in the game, got past the goalie and it found the back of the Michigan goal, the Liberty bench, with numerous family and friends that had traveled to see the game celebrated in creation, as did the first time in the game the Flames had the lead, at 6-5. With 2:33 seconds left, there were still tense moments. A face-off in the Liberty zone led a UM shot deflected to center ice. The final buzzer saw Liberty skating into the corner.

The Flames (4-4) have two remaining home games before the National, the Saturdays vs. Duke, and the 19th vs. NC State.
12, and counting...
Liberty ransacks the Buccaneers in another dominating victory, picking up its twelfth straight win (fourth longest in the nation).

Kristal Tharp: The girl next door

With a three-point shot that has broken the hearts of many Liberty foes and a smile that could light the Vines Center by itself, Kristal Tharp has etched herself into Liberty lore.

She does not let success go to her head either. Beyond all the numbers though, Tharp is just “the girl next door,” with warm, friendly personality and a demeanor that could comfort even the most nervous individual.

She does not let success go to her head either. Beyond all the numbers though, Tharp is just “the girl next door,” with warm, friendly personality and a demeanor that could comfort even the most nervous individual.

“Tharp is a great honor, but I am no beauty queen… that’s not me.” She has received lots of attention for some of these achievements and awards then and now. “The attention is a lot to get used to. I just look at it as an opportunity to get used to.”

She is as focused on the team bus and the Homecoming queen… that’s not me.” She has received lots of attention for some of these achievements and awards then and now. “The attention is a lot to get used to. I just look at it as an opportunity to get used to.”

She wants to follow in her father and grandfather’s footsteps in a career as a veterinarian.

“Animals are a love of my life,” Tharp said. She plans on attending Ohio State University starting this summer to pursue a career as a veterinarian.

“Animals are a love of my life,” Tharp said. She plans on attending Ohio State University starting this summer to pursue a career as a veterinarian.

Birmingham Southern 72-55

The Liberty Champion

The Flames lead in the game. They then hit a second-chance figure at 16 and 10, while Watkins also supplied seven rebounds.

With 4:59 left in the first half, Turner connected on a jumper to give the Flames a two-point lead at 28-26. It was the last time the Flames would lead in the game. They then hit only three of 12 shots to finish the half.

On the game the Flames shot 38.3 percent from the floor, going 16-for-47, while the Panthers shot 53.9 percent from the floor, going 28-for-52.

Trailing by only two points at halftime (35-33), the Flames began the second half cold, which gave the Panthers an opportunity to increase their lead. The Panthers opened the second half with a quick 7-0 run to extend the lead to nine points when junior Harry Williams hit a three-pointer from beyond the arc.

The Flames would lead in the game. They then hit only three of 12 shots to finish the half.

Trailing by only two points at halftime (35-33), the Flames began the second half cold, which gave the Panthers an opportunity to increase their lead. The Panthers opened the second half with a quick 7-0 run to extend the lead to nine points when junior Harry Williams hit a three-pointer from beyond the arc.

The Flames would lead in the game. They then hit only three of 12 shots to finish the half.

Trailing by only two points at halftime (35-33), the Flames began the second half cold, which gave the Panthers an opportunity to increase their lead. The Panthers opened the second half with a quick 7-0 run to extend the lead to nine points when junior Harry Williams hit a three-pointer from beyond the arc.

The Flames would lead in the game. They then hit only three of 12 shots to finish the half.

Trailing by only two points at halftime (35-33), the Flames began the second half cold, which gave the Panthers an opportunity to increase their lead. The Panthers opened the second half with a quick 7-0 run to extend the lead to nine points when junior Harry Williams hit a three-pointer from beyond the arc.

The Flames would lead in the game. They then hit only three of 12 shots to finish the half.

Trailing by only two points at halftime (35-33), the Flames began the second half cold, which gave the Panthers an opportunity to increase their lead. The Panthers opened the second half with a quick 7-0 run to extend the lead to nine points when junior Harry Williams hit a three-pointer from beyond the arc.

The Flames would lead in the game. They then hit only three of 12 shots to finish the half.

Trailing by only two points at halftime (35-33), the Flames began the second half cold, which gave the Panthers an opportunity to increase their lead. The Panthers opened the second half with a quick 7-0 run to extend the lead to nine points when junior Harry Williams hit a three-pointer from beyond the arc.

The Flames would lead in the game. They then hit only three of 12 shots to finish the half.

Trailing by only two points at halftime (35-33), the Flames began the second half cold, which gave the Panthers an opportunity to increase their lead. The Panthers opened the second half with a quick 7-0 run to extend the lead to nine points when junior Harry Williams hit a three-pointer from beyond the arc.

The Flames would lead in the game. They then hit only three of 12 shots to finish the half.

Trailing by only two points at halftime (35-33), the Flames began the second half cold, which gave the Panthers an opportunity to increase their lead. The Panthers opened the second half with a quick 7-0 run to extend the lead to nine points when junior Harry Williams hit a three-pointer from beyond the arc.

The Flames would lead in the game. They then hit only three of 12 shots to finish the half.

Trailing by only two points at halftime (35-33), the Flames began the second half cold, which gave the Panthers an opportunity to increase their lead. The Panthers opened the second half with a quick 7-0 run to extend the lead to nine points when junior Harry Williams hit a three-pointer from beyond the arc.

The Flames would lead in the game. They then hit only three of 12 shots to finish the half.

Trailing by only two points at halftime (35-33), the Flames began the second half cold, which gave the Panthers an opportunity to increase their lead. The Panthers opened the second half with a quick 7-0 run to extend the lead to nine points when junior Harry Williams hit a three-pointer from beyond the arc.

The Flames would lead in the game. They then hit only three of 12 shots to finish the half.

Trailing by only two points at halftime (35-33), the Flames began the second half cold, which gave the Panthers an opportunity to increase their lead. The Panthers opened the second half with a quick 7-0 run to extend the lead to nine points when junior Harry Williams hit a three-pointer from beyond the arc.

The Flames would lead in the game. They then hit only three of 12 shots to finish the half.

Trailing by only two points at halftime (35-33), the Flames began the second half cold, which gave the Panthers an opportunity to increase their lead. The Panthers opened the second half with a quick 7-0 run to extend the lead to nine points when junior Harry Williams hit a three-pointer from beyond the arc.

The Flames would lead in the game. They then hit only three of 12 shots to finish the half.

Trailing by only two points at halftime (35-33), the Flames began the second half cold, which gave the Panthers an opportunity to increase their lead. The Panthers opened the second half with a quick 7-0 run to extend the lead to nine points when junior Harry Williams hit a three-pointer from beyond the arc.

The Flames would lead in the game. They then hit only three of 12 shots to finish the half.

Trailing by only two points at halftime (35-33), the Flames began the second half cold, which gave the Panthers an opportunity to increase their lead. The Panthers opened the second half with a quick 7-0 run to extend the lead to nine points when junior Harry Williams hit a three-pointer from beyond the arc.

The Flames would lead in the game. They then hit only three of 12 shots to finish the half.

Trailing by only two points at halftime (35-33), the Flames began the second half cold, which gave the Panthers an opportunity to increase their lead. The Panthers opened the second half with a quick 7-0 run to extend the lead to nine points when junior Harry Williams hit a three-pointer from beyond the arc.

The Flames would lead in the game. They then hit only three of 12 shots to finish the half.

Trailing by only two points at halftime (35-33), the Flames began the second half cold, which gave the Panthers an opportunity to increase their lead. The Panthers opened the second half with a quick 7-0 run to extend the lead to nine points when junior Harry Williams hit a three-pointer from beyond the arc.

The Flames would lead in the game. They then hit only three of 12 shots to finish the half.