My state requires a “certificate.” How does this compare to the VA add-on “license” in Early Childhood for 3- and 4-Year-Olds?	Liberty’s Early Childhood Education for 3- and 4-Year-Olds program is approved for a VA license, which is reciprocated in other states. VA uses the term “license,” but it is the same credential as a “certificate.”
Will my license be valid in other states?	You have two choices to apply for licensure: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. You may submit the licensure application for your state (usually available on your state’s Department of Education website). Our Licensure Office will prepare the verification that you have completed a state-approved program. In most states, there are no other requirements for licensure. In some states you will need to take a state-specific test. There may also be a state-specific course to be completed during your first year of employment. 2. You may submit the application for Virginia licensure and then apply for licensure in your state. This is the recommended route if you are not sure where you will be teaching.

What are the exact licensure requirements for my program?	Go to the following website and look under the Early Childhood program requirements on page 25: http://www.doe.virginia.gov/teaching/licensure/licensure_regs.pdf The main aspects of these requirements are provided below. (FOR NON-VIRGINIANS: Our licensure programs are approved by the state of Virginia and are reciprocated by other states.
