Strategies for Success

- Gauge interest in this major by signing up for a 100 or 200 level Philosophy course.
- Cultivate strong oral and written communication, analytical and reasoning skills.
- Understand that Philosophy is the ultimate transferable skill; with, its emphasis on reason and argumentation, philosophy is an excellent preparation for a career in religion, law, business, international diplomacy, medical management, social work, writing, as well as postgraduate education.
- Pursue relevant certifications that can augment a degree in Philosophy and prepare one for a specific field of work.
- Seek leadership positions in related campus clubs and groups.
- Complete a summer internship or volunteer with organizations, nonprofits, or ministries of interest.
- Become more marketable by selecting a minor that will compliment one's chosen career direction.
- Meet with philosophy professors to find out how they have seen this degree utilized, the strengths and challenges of this field, and what the developing trends are.
- Work as a teacher's assistant or office assistant for the Philosophy or Divinity department to gain related experience.
- Consistently manage a personal blog where philosophical, theological, political, and legal issues are discussed; this can later serve as a writing sample for a potential employer.

Holland Codes

The Holland Code system is designed to connect individuals with the career field that best fits their personality. The system scores the test taker on six separate scales: Realistic (R), Investigative (I), Artistic (A), Social (S), Enterprising (E), and Conventional (C). The two or three highest scores represent an individual's strongest attributes. Here are a few examples of positions associated with this major:

- Philosopher (SAI)
- Newspaper Editor (SEA)
- Professor (SEI)
- Sociologist (IAE)

The FOCUS 2 Career Assessment utilizes these Holland Codes and is a free resource to Liberty students. Customized with Liberty's majors, assessment results are matched to career options and majors offered at Liberty. To access this free resource visit www.Liberty.edu/Focus2.
