

Test Description – NGRK 506

This exam expects basic familiarity with the various parts of speech in the Greek language and their basic functions as well as their rough English equivalents. This includes knowledge of the functions of the necessary tools needed to analyze the grammar of a passage or perform a word study. Knowledge of basic vocabulary is also expected. The exam includes questions on Greek parts of speech (verbs, nouns, pronouns, prepositions, adjectives, and conjunctions); Verbal functions (tense, voice, mood, person, and number); Greek languages tools (lexicons, dictionaries, interlinears, etc.); Basic Greek vocabulary words. The test contains 100 multiple choice, true/false, and matching questions. Mounce's Greek Grammar for the Rest of Us should be consulted in preparation for this exam.