

The 3-Point Competition Rules

- Participants must be in athletic wear (athletic shoes only; no boots, no jeans/dress slacks)
- Preliminary rounds will be held during LU IMS play on Monday and Tuesday evening during the week of the contest.
- The top eight (8) contestants after preliminary rounds will compete in the actual contest.
- Participants will have 1 minute to complete all five racks.
- Each rack will have five balls. The first four balls will be worth 1 point and the final ball (Money ball) will be worth 2 points.
- The Money ball cannot be shot until the other four balls on the rack have been shot.
- Participant can choose which corner to start from, but cannot start from the top of the key or either wing.
- Participants feet cannot be on the line when he/she attempts shot. Spotter will notify shooter and official scorer if infraction occurs.
- The top four participants with the highest score advance to the semifinals. (Tiebreaker: participant with the most Money balls made will advance; if tie persists, there will be a 1-minute shoot-out where the same rules apply.)
- The semifinal round will follow the same rules as above with the top two advancing to the Championship Round.
- The Championship Round will follow the same rules as above with the player who scores the most points becoming the Champion.

Slam Dunk Competition Rules

- Players must be in athletic wear (athletic shoes only; no boots, no jeans/dress slacks)
- In the first round of competition, participants will be given two separate chances to dunk
- Each participant will be given one minute to complete a dunk
- As soon as the first dunk is completed, the dunk will be scored by our judges on a scale of 1-10
- The participant will have a second dunk in the first round after all the other participants have attempted their dunks
- The two scores will be averaged together for a final score
- The top three participants will advance to the final round "Dunk Off"
- In the case of a tie, both participants will advance
- The same rules will apply for the final round "Dunk Off"
- Judges will be chosen by the LU IMS Director, Associate Director, and Basketball Supervisor.
