

SAFETY ANNOUNCEMENT

February 2021

Did you know?

Environmental Health & Safety now has resources to help you keep your employees trained and safe.

Videos:

You can go to <https://www.atonline.com> and register to access safety videos. Once registered sign in and go to topics. Select a topic and then on the right of the page enter serial # Liberty-VA24501 and hit use serial. Your video will then begin to play. Each video also has a leader's guide that you can download and use to discuss the video that was viewed.

Safety Talks:

You can go to <https://weeklysafety.com/mv6> and use the weekly toolbox talks. To access, hit login and enter the email address lusafety@liberty.edu. Then put in the password LUEHS2015. It is that easy! Please only pass this info on to supervisors. If you have a change in supervisors, please contact EHS so that a new password can be set to access the site. This is a mandatory requirement from the website owner.

Forms, Standard Operating Procedures and Policies:

You can go to the Environmental Health and Safety website at <https://www.liberty.edu/ehs/> to access forms, SOP's, Policies, Safety Announcements, etc. Check in frequently as changes and additions will be taking place on a regular basis.

Added Value to Liberty University

- * Provides easily accessible materials to assist in safety training.
- * EHS website provides easy access to materials that employees need to be in compliance with LU Safety Protocols as well as regulatory requirements.
- * An educated staff is a safer staff. Providing training on a reoccurring basis has been proven to reduce accidents which keeps people safer and reduces costs to the university.
