

LIBERTY UNIVERSITY

REQUESTING NEW FEDERAL STUDENT LOANS

LOANS/TEACH (FSL/TEACH) Following a Disability Discharge

YOU DO NOT WANT NEW FSL/TEACH

COMPLETE THE DECLINATION STATEMENT

YOU DO WANT NEW FSL/TEACH

SUBMIT BORROWER'S
ACKNOWLEDGMENT
STATEMENT AND
PHYSICIAN CERTIFICATION

IF YOU ARE NOT IN A VA DISCHARGE: and still in a PDMP*

WAIT FOR THE 3-YEAR
PERIOD TO BE COMPLETED
BEFORE SUBMITTING THE REQUIRED FORMS.

post-discharge monitoring period*

ANOTHER ALTERNATIVE:

Recall the Disability Discharge application. The National Student Loan Database System (NSLDS) must update to show loans have returned to repayment. We do not need any other documentation in this instance, unless your loans were in default prior to the disability discharge application.

THINGS TO NOTE:

For returning students – as long as we have a sufficient Physician's Certification on file from a previous year – we only need a new Personal Statement for the current aid year, according to federal regulation.

WHAT TO DO IF YOU ARE IN THE POST-DISCHARGE MONITORING PERIOD:

The 3-year PDMP is required for all non-VA discharges.

The monitoring period must be completed before taking out any new FSL/Teach.

Previously discharged loans must be placed back into repayment status to receive new FSL/Teach (if within the PDMP).

Visit DisabilityDischarge.com for more information

The Department of Education defines substantial gainful activity: DisabilityDischarge.com/Application-Process